Dear Mrs. Byrnes:

Thank you for your query on Burleys/Burleighs in Ontario. At the moment, my brother has all of my father's files on the Burleigh families and I am unable to make a thorough search of them for the names you seek. I do have brief notes taken from these files as well as my own Burley files created by research on my husband's Burley line (he and I are 4th cousins) and correspondence through the years with other Burley researchers.

A brief history of the John Burley family goes thus: John Burley and his wife Dorcas Freeman lived at Saratoga, N.Y. from the time of settlement of this area in the 1760's and seemed to have originated from Dutchess County to the south along the Hudson River. They had four known children - all sons- Freeman, Cornelius, Joseph and John. John died ca 1777 perhaps in the battle at Saratoga and Dorcas remarried one Mathias Rose, Sr who also had a family from a first marriage. Her eldest son, Freeman seems to have inherited the lease on their farm at Saratoga and here they resided until they left as refugees to Quebec in 1781. Of the four boys only Freeman and John accompanied the family to Canada. Evidently the two middle boys, Cornelius and Joseph were sent to Dutchess County at some time, to be brought up by relatives. They are both listed in the 1790 N.Y. Census for that County and both of them later came to this area with families ca 1796.

Freeman, Joseph and John lived long lives and fathered many children. None of these children were named Nelson or Anthony, nor can I find these names among their known descendants in the next generation. My husband, Peter and I are both descended from the youngest son, John b. 1768 through his sons, Freeman J. and Cyrus respectively. Freeman J. did have a grandson named Nelson Robert Burley b. 13 July 1854 who removed with his family to North Dakota.

Cornelius b. ca 1760 came with Joseph to Canada ca 1796 but unfortunately drowned a few years later, and his wife and family returned to the States upon his death. He had the following children - John, George, Abner and Amos. George and John died unmarried, nothing is known of Amos and Abner had the following family: Abner Nelson b. 1814; Harriet b. 1816; Eva Ann b. 1826; George Fredrick b. 1822. Abner was related to have come back to Canada at a later date and I do know that he petitioned on 22 April 1820 for the land in Pickering Twp, Ontario that had been awarded to his father, Cornelius ca 1798. Evidently Cornelius died before he was able to claim this land. At the time of the above petition Abner was listed as of Columbia County, NY state.

Anthony Burley rings a bell in my mind but I have yet to determine how except I know that it is from the era of 1850. I will keep searching.

You didn't state where the two men you are seeking lived. The data we have on Burleighs concerns many of this name ranging over North America, from this area to Esfordin Western Ontario through the American West to Oregon - many of them unidentified.

If any of this information is relevant to you in your search and you can enlarge on your data that you have sent me, I will try to search further in my father's records.

Sincerely,

Diane H. MacKinnon

Dear Diane,

After writing you last month, I was matching information my sister sent me and discovered that Cornelius Burley (1760-1800) and family returned to NY - you state his son Abner petitioned for Cornelius' land 1820 - Pickering Twp. His son (Abner's) by the name of Abner Nelson b. 1814 dropped Abner and used Nelson Burley. His wife was Lavina ? b. 1821. He appears on 1861 census - Bosanquet Twp. Thedford area. I am enclosing his family sheet as his son William b. 1846 married one of Anthony's daughters. They were reported to be cousins but how close I don't know. Perhaps Anthony is a son of Cornelius - born after his father died & his mother returned to NY.

My sister found most of Nelson's family buried in the old Baptist cemetery (1838 on gate) Thedford, Ont.

All of William and Sarah Burley's children remained around Harton or Stokes Bay, Lions Head area.

Do you know anything about Joseph Burley's son Cornelius Alverson (1804-1830) living London, Ont.? I thought my Anthony might be a brother but haven't found him. Now I'm wondering if someone else used a second name instead of one we know. Anthony Burley was living in Guelph area 1829 - married to Mary McKeowan (Cantley)^{1st marriage} when his daughter Eleanor was born. In 1832 when daughter Mary Abigail Burley was born it says Beverly Twp.? Is Guelph in Beverly Twp.? I read an article on Cornelius and it said he lived in Beverly Twp.

My great grandmother Florena Burley said Cornelius (1804-1830) was a cousin but again don't know how close.

Would your brother have any more information and if so would he correspond with me?

A brief outline of Anthony follows:

No coat of arms has been found pertaining to the emigrant Robert of Plymouth Colony. However see pages 198, 219-20 and 252. In such cases where Americans do not have legally an hereditary coat of arms, they have a right to have arms devised as new coats (assumed arms) and can even have them put on file in the United States without having to apply for private grants in England or some other foreign country. Heraldry authorities have written about this American practice. It has been common practice in assuming arms to devise one that alludes specifically to a given surname—like a signature.

field" bounded by the lands of Richard Sparrow and John Thompson. It was agreed she could dwell in the house until March the following year when payment was due. (MSPdx/AF 189)

Richard Sparrow conveyed his land adjoining this Paddock lot, regarding which there was a memorandum 22 November 1656 (MD 10:215):

"That Richard Sparrow of the Towne of Eastham in the Jurisdiction of Plymouth in New England both acknowledge ... hee hath ... sold unto ... George Bonum ... his house and garden plott Scituate in Plymouth aforesaid on the south street of the said towne ... with six acres of upland in the Newfield ... lying betwixt the land of John Wood ... and the land of Robert Paddock ... It is now believed that it was Mary Paddock the Widow who married (2) Plymouth 24 March 1651 Thomas Roberts of Duxbury, Massachusetts, rather than her daughter Mary (HbCb). (MD 16:235/NGRR 26:189/GRR 3:328) A purchase of land adjoining property formerly owned by Thomas Roberts which "written deed was dated before ... John Freeman Assist This 20: 12^m 1667^m (MD 21:160-1), to which date there is an editorial footnote: "As the twelfth month, in Old Style dating, was February, the date of the acknowledgement was 20 February, 1667/8." (John Freeman, Assistant to the Governor, was a maternal ancestor of many Paddock descendants of later generations.):

"Know that I Richard Higginson of Eastham in the Government of New Plymouth in New England in America Taylor doe by these presents ... exchange a parcel of upland containing twenty acres ... to the Easterly bound tree of the land that was formerly Thomas Roberts: from thence downe to youngs cove as the said Thomas Roberts range runnes these bounds in both p^{cs}ells containing twenty acre be it more or lesse unto the said Jonathan Sparrow of the Towne of Eastham in the Government of New Plymouth in New England Husbandman"

Robert (as claimed) inherited the blacksmith shop of his father in Killybeg, Barony of Ardee, County Louth, Ireland, in the will of his mother made at Killybeg 15 May 1607:

"The Inverle of the goods of the said Jane Paddock, widow of John Paddock, deceased, late of Killybeg ... to my son Robert Paddock the blacksmith-shop, one cow, five yards of broad cloathes and to him my moveable p^{er}sonality and to his wife, Mary Paddock, born Ball my blake cleave" (TPI: 87-8; Armagh reg. day 4, f. 1. TPI. Wheeler NS.).

The name of the ship and the year of the emigration of Robert Paddock remain unknown. He may well have been in Plymouth by 1632, there having been two of his children entered in the Plymouth Colony Records born before 1636 (MD 17:185).

In 1638, June 4th:

"At a Court of Assistants ... in y^e fourteenth yeare of the Reigne of our soueraign Lord Charles ... King Defender of the Fayth ... Bradford Gov^r. Williams Corranell of Duxbury has acknowledgedth ... to be levied ... for the felonious breaking of the house of Robte Paddock and taking out of a chest thereth XII^m VII^d and ... Robte Paddock of Duxbury, Smyth ... shall frame ... one bill of indictment at the next Genall Court ... against William Corranell of the enupcion of breaking of his house" (PCR/TPC/MSPdx)

The Paddock Manuscript states that the above case was "the leased" and that an entry appeared at the bottom of the same page showing that Robert Paddock was granted "the garden place next to Thomas Willlett and William Paddy should have had, this grant is rentitled to John Groome" (PCR/TPC/MSPdx). The court that made this grant included among others Governor William Bradford (1590-1657), Captain Miles Standish (ca. 1584-1656), John Alden and Edward Winslow (1599-1655), previously and later governor of the colony (TPI 12).

Also in 1638: The inventory of the estate of William Palmer, Senior, filed 1638, showed an indebtedness to Robert Paddock of 9 d. for a pair of shoes and "to goodwife paddock for y^e child l. 1^s 5^d 2 d." (MD 21:146, 152). Robert requested an accounting of this 20 October 1646. Also in 1638: "Goodwife Paddock" received money from the estate of Job Cole "for the child" (HbCb).

In 1641, December 31st:

"Robte Paddock he granted foure acres of upland where hee desired about "Kneches dingler" (PCR 2:36/TPC 12).

The above place is interpreted also "Keneias Dingle" (HDT 1-23-37) and "Kenneias Dingle" (MSPdx/HbCb).

In 1642, November 1st: He served as a jurman in the trespass case of Robert Morris vs. John Hassell (HbCb). In 1643, February 27th: The inventory of "Mr John Atwood lately Deceased" of New Plymouth gent^l showed "Debts owing by the Testator ... To Robte Paddock 01.00.00" (MD 31:58-9).

In 1643, August: He was listed among those able to bear arms and was entered on the roster of non-commissioned officers and privates in the Plymouth Company (PCL 76). This company was under the command of the noted Capt. Miles Standish (ca. 1584-1656), military defender of New Plymouth, who lived part of his lifetime at Duxbury as did Robert Paddock himself whose services as blacksmith were no doubt valuable to the Plymouth Company as well as to farmers and builders, for there were few horses in early Plymouth Colony. (Duxbury was a part of Plymouth Colony as well as the settlement called Plymouth.)

Also in 1643: One peck of corn was levied against Robert Paddock for the "cow keep" and he contributed 6 d. for drumheads (PITR 3:3, 14).

In 1646, June 2nd: He was appointed Constable of the Town of Plymouth "by an order of the General Court, Bradford Gov^r." (PCR 2:101/PCL 48/TPC 12/AF 189).

In 1646, October 20th:

"At the third session of the General Court begun the first tuesday in June holden the 20th of October in y^e twenty secondth yeare of the reigne "where Robte Paddock complains to this Court for and desireth to have an account of what is due unto him by the last will and testament of Wm Palmer deceased, the Court desireth Mr Thomas France either to come in and give an account or send it unto the Gov^r or y^e what is due unto y^e said Paddock "as y^e with convenience he may and that before this winter yf he came" (PCR 2: 109/PC 12/MSPdx)

In 1648, February: At a town meeting he was among those granted an acre apiece lying above Mr. Atwood's property and was also entailed in "The Grandinquest" of 1648 (MSPdx).

In 1648, June 4th:

"Robert Paddock of Plymouth and William Clark of Duxbury were both present June the 4th for being drunk and [] both cleared by the payment of their fines" (MSPdx).

William Clark, with whom Robert overlanded, may have been a relative of Nathaniel Horton Clarke who witnessed the confirmation of Mary Paddock, widow, 1650, and the latter likely a relative of Nathaniel Horton, one of the historians of Plymouth Colony.

After his death in 1650 "some of the Children of Robert Paddock Deceased" were entered in the Plymouth Colony Vital Records (MD 17:185):

"The Register of the age of some of the Children of Robert Paddock Deceased Imprimis William Palmer the son in law of the said Robert Paddock was borne the 27th of June 1634

"Zachariah Paddock the son of Robert Paddock was borne the 20th of march 1636

"Mary the Daughter of Robert Paddock was borne the tenth of March 1638

"Allis the Daughter of Robert Paddock was borne the 7th of March 1640

"John the son of Robert Paddock was borne the first of April 1643

"There are two others that are before registered in this book" (MD 17:185)

Thus the births of Zachariah, Mary, Alice and John were recorded in the Plymouth Colony Records, and indirectly Elizabeth, not named but implied by reference to her husband William Palmer "the son in law of said Robert Paddock" (MD 17:185).

Robert, Jr. and Elizabeth were likely the "two other that are before registered in this book" but the accidental omission of Susanna from this list is not accounted for. (The original record of Plymouth births does not extend earlier than 1648, as it now stands. The first few pages are badly worn and there are pages missing.) Some accounts included a potential son George, probably due to an error in an early article on the Paddock family (NHER 12:220) wherein this supposed son was said to have married Sarah Ricard in 1677. The original record reads: "Georg Paddock & Sarah Ricard married the Xvith may 1640 Plymouth" WD 13:85).

Children of Robert Paddock and his wife Mary:

MOFFET, JR., born about 1632-4. Lived at one time at Dartmouth, Massachusetts (NABHOL 12:220). His birthdate sometimes given just "1634" but unsubstantiated, probably due to a misinterpretation of the incomplete entry in the children in the Plymouth Colony Records which begins with "the son of In" born 1634. "About 1632" (Fridella) is reasonable. There appear to be no known records of his death or of a possible marriage. Only his name has been perpetuated through privately family records.

ELIZABETH, born about 1634-51 married William Palmer, Jr., born 27 June 1634 (CD 17:185). William has been found given as son of William and Elizabeth (Hodgkins) Palmer (TPC) and this latter William identified as a Lieutenant and a Representative of Yarmouth, Massachusetts (GENE/TPC ix). Members of this Palmer family were said to have lived at one time at Dartmouth, Massachusetts, and to have removed to Newton, Long Island, New York 1656 (GENE/TPC ix).

2 ZACHARLAE, born 20 March 1636; married Deborah Sears.

LABELLING, 26010 March 1958. Sometimes given as the Mary Paddock who married WATKINS, born 10 March 1858. Sometimes given as the Mary Paddock of birthplace, Massachusetts (BPNF 3.1358/ANY/GR 23 March 1851 Thomas Pobergas of birthplace, Massachusetts (BPNF 3.1358/ANY/GR 26/189) but later considered to have been "too young" (though youthful marriages have occurred) and that it was rather her mother who married him as her second husband (HBCS). There appear to be also older factors as her second husband (HBCS). No record of her death or of any children in this latter conclusion. No record of her death or of any children by her have been given by the earlier Paddock compilers.

ALICE, born 7 March 1640, died 24 September 1692; married 7 May 1663 (MD 17:

ALICE born 7 March 1640, died 24 September 1692 married 7 May 1663 (MD 17 183) Zachariah Eddy, born 1639, died Swansea, Massachusetts 4 September 1718 son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Sawyer?) Old map (Poughkeepsie Library) showed: William Paddock "located in the hill or mountains between Clove Valley and Windale nearer Dover Furnace than any other place" accounting for his appearance in the Dunkin Store Records 1789-94 (Poughkeepsie Library). Cattle ear-mark registered Beekman 30 Apr. 1798 (Dover Furnace (BKPKF). Cattle ear-mark registered Beekman 30 Apr. 1798 (Dover Furnace (BKPKF). 1795—"Peter signed by mark. John's signature seems laborer" (HBCb). Children listed below given erroneously in part in Cutter's The Genealogical and Family History of Central New York (1912) as those of Zachariah and Deborah (Freeman) Paddock. Regarding this, Mabel E. Anderson wrote Clifford Martin Buck of Salt Point, N.Y. 7 May 1937: "I have been unable to find definite documentary record supporting this relationship, and I understand it has been questioned by members of the family" (AmE/BKPKF). Likewise regarding this, James Getty of Yonkers, N.Y. wrote Mr. Buck 15 May 1943: "As my line is through Zachariah Paddock who married Deborah Freeman, I have a fairly complete record of this branch, and there is nothing in the record to even suggest that Henry Paddock of Beekman Precinct was of this Cape Cod branch. There were two Henry Paddocks, contemporaries in Beekman. Mr. W. V. C. Williams (Herman) Paddock's ancestor was Henry Paddock who married Mary (Polly) Shears. This Henry had brothers, Job/Peter/Levi; and sister Deborah. These were probably the children of John and Hannah (Sprague) Paddock." (BKPKF) Probable children:

1. ROBERT¹ PADDOCK, born 1583; died August 18, 1650 (16 M. D. 235); married

Mary

. Not long after the entry of Robert's death is the entry "Tho: Robert's married to Mary Padduck the 24th of March" 1650/1.

Justin Winson says in his History of Duxbury (1849), page 286, that Zachariah, father of Robert, came in the Mayflower, being then a minor; but he gives no authority.

June 4, 1638 Robert Paddock was granted the garden place next to Thomas Willett that William Paddy should have had.

June 4, 1638 he gave a bond conditioned upon his preferring an indictment against William Corvannell at the next General Court for breaking into his house and taking 13s. 8d. from a chest therein and to give evidence to the grand and petty juries.

1638 Goodwife Paddock received money from the estate of Job Cole "for the child".

The inventory in the estate of William Palmer, Sr. filed in 1638 shows the estate was indebted to Robert Paddock for 9d. for a pair of shoes and "to goodwife paddock for ye child bl. 5s. 2d. (2 M. D. 148, 152); and on Oct. 20, 1646 Robert requested an accounting and Thomas Prince, executor, was ^{required} requested to account.

Dec. 31, 1641 he was granted 4 acres of upland where he desired about Kenlin's Dingle.

Nov. 1, 1642 he was on a jury in the case of Robert Morris against John Hassell for £20 damages for trespass. The plaintiff recovered £5 damages and charges.

1643 he was on the list of those between the ages of 16 and 60 able to bear arms.

Feby. 27, 1643 the inventory in the estate of John Atwood showed an indebtedness to Robert Paddock of bl. (6 M. D. 158.)

In 1643 there was levied against him one peck of corn for the "cow keep" and he contributed 6d. for drumheads. Governor Bradford and Mr. Prince paid about the same amount. (Plymouth Town Records, pages 13-14.)

June 2, 1646 he was chosen constable.

At the meeting held in February 1648 he and others were granted an

June 4, 1648 Robert Paddock of Plymouth and William Clark of Duxbury were presented for being drunk and both paid a fine. Was this a Robert, Jr.?

Dec. 3, 1650 Mary, the widow, sold to Stephen Wood for £9. 10s. the house, garden plot and shop in the south street in Plymouth and about 3 acres in the Newfield, bounded by land of Richard Sparrow on one side and land of John Thompson on the other. Payment of £4. 10s. was to be made by the 1st of the next March and of the remaining £5 by that time twelve months in cattle. It was agreed that she should dwell in the house until the next March and then to leave it to the said Stephen Wood.

The next March Mary Paddock married Thomas Roberts.

August 2, 1653 Richard Sparrow conveyed to George Bomun land adjoining this Paddock lot. (3 M. D. 139; 10 M. D. 215.)

Feby. 20, 1667/8 Richard Higgins sold to Jonathan Sparrow 20 acres adjoining land formerly owned by Thomas Roberts. (21 M. D. 160.)

Children:

The births of four children are given in the Plymouth records printed in 17 M. D. 185 as follows:

Zacariah, born March 20, 1636.

Mary, born March 10, 1638.

Allis, born March 7, 1640.

John, born April 1, 1643.

This entry begins with the statement that William Palmer, the son-in-law of said Robert Paddock, was born June 27, 1634.

It ends with the statement that "there are two other that are before registered in ^{this} the books".

Probably one of the others was the daughter who married William Palmer.

A Deborah Paddock died unmarried in Yarmouth August 17, 1732 within one month of 93 years of age, but she must have been born in 1640.

Robert Jones of Hingham married Anna Bibble, daughter of John and Sibel Bibble of Hull. Mrs. Sibel Bibble married (2) Miles Nutt and (3) John Doolittle.

The will of Sybelle Doolittle of Malden, Mass., dated Dec. 25, 1683, written and witnessed by Thomas Cheever and proved in 1690, contains a gift to Hannah Paddock and her children John and Mary. Among others mentioned in the will are Obadiah Jenkins and wife Mary, and grandchildren Robert, Zachary, Benjamin and Rebecca Jones, Mercy Jones, Sarah Brown and Joseph Brown, son of Sarah Brown. Her grandson Obadiah Jenkins was the executor. (9 N. E. Reg. 307.)

Robert Paddock on his deathbed gave his son John "aged about five years unto Captaine Tho. Willett to bee att his disposing and under his guidance as his child". On Nov. 19, 1650 the widow Mary confirmed this agreement. Thomas Willett in his will proved Nov. 25, 1674 left "To old servant John Paddock £10.". (Austin's Gen. Dict. of R. I., page 428.)

Captain Thomas Willett, born 1610 went to Swansea and died Jany. 8, 1669. He is buried in the Little Neck Cemetery, now in East Providence. He was mayor of New York City from 1664 to 1667 and some of its citizens erected a monument for him. (61 N. E. Reg. 159.)

Among the signers of the agreement for the founding of Swansea in 1667 were Thomas Willett, Zachariah Eddy and John Paddock. John Paddock lived in the portion which was afterwards the town of Barrington, R. I. The proprietors then were divided into three classes. John Butterworth was in the first class, Zachariah Eddy and William Salisbury in the second class and John Paddock and Caleb Eddy in the third class. (Bicknell's Town of Barrington, pp. 63, 82.)

The will of John Paddock of Swansey, yeoman, dated April 8, 1718, was probated June 6, 1718. He gave his house and movables and the keeping tween 1821 and 1830.

Thomas Peaslee also says that there was a widow Paddock, probably named Elizabeth, but called Betty or Granny, who lived in the town of Elenheim, Schoharie years of age.

The Peaslees and Paddocks intermarried and John Peaslee who was born in Hope this note reaches you. I am searching for Burleys/ Burleighs in Ontario and know your father was very interested in Genealogy. It is your ^{great} grandfather Nelson Burley and if so, do you know where he was born? I have the year 1817 and note he was a U.E.L.

Do you have any Anthony Burleys in your family - born 1801 or 1809?

Please drop me a line if you are part of this family. Thanks.

One of the cannons, not shipped because of a fault, stood in front of the Robertson residence on Mitchell Street for years. Later it was moved and placed in front of the residence of Dr. Norman Wallace at 5 Queen Street.¹¹

Although all of these manufacturing firms contributed significantly to Guelph's prosperity during the eighteen-sixties, their real importance lay in two areas. First, they concentrated skilled labour in Guelph, and second, they formed the basis for Guelph's rapid industrial expansion during the Franco-Prussian war years (1870-1874) and the National Policy period (1879-1883). This concentration of skilled labour and the accumulation of capital by financial and mercantile enterprises would prove of particular importance. Older firms expanded rapidly and from 1869 on, a large number of new enterprises were created around skilled employees from such established firms as Robertson & Son, Raymond Sewing Machine Company, The Bell Organ Company, and Armstrong and McCrae. Although not all of these new firms would survive, many did, and were significant in the transformation of Guelph from a mercantile to an industrial centre.

In spite of considerable progress made in developing an economic base, events between 1866 and 1871 showed how vulnerable Guelph's economy was to outside interference. In particular the building of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce and Wellington, Grey and Bruce railways would cause difficult local problems.

For more than a decade, merchants in both Toronto and Hamilton had investigated the feasibility of building a railway into the rapidly growing areas of North Wellington, Grey and Bruce. From time to time charters had been granted to groups proposing to build a railway from either Guelph or Toronto to Owen Sound, and the residents of such towns as Fergus, Arthur, Mount Forest and Orangeville had proclaimed their enthusiasm for any project which promised to bring rail transportation to their town.

The report of the Railway Committee of Wellington County Council made June 4, 1858,¹² supported the building of a railway from Guelph to Owen Sound. Similar support was given by a Committee established by the Provisional Council of Bruce County in their report of January 3, 1862, in which they suggested that a bonus of $400,000 in debentures be given upon completion of such a railway.

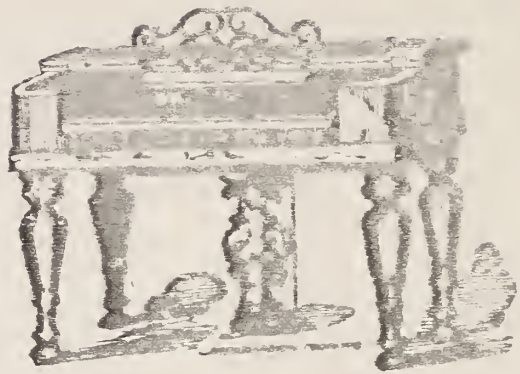

In 1864, a group of promoters led by the Hon. John McMurich and Francis Shanley of Toronto, acquired a charter to build a railway from Guelph to Owen Sound.¹³ By its charter,

Amos Burley
lived in Columbia County, N.Y. on 1820 census.
the year Abner returned to Canada.

Nelson was born 1817 in U.S.A. (place unknown) and lived Lambton County near Thedford. He had children - Samuel, David, Mary, Abigail, William, Sharlot, Wesley, Stephen, Judson, John. I think he may have been a brother to Anthony Burley b. 1809. Anthony was living in Michigan - Livingston County in 1850 with Almeda and children Edwin, Thomas, Sarah, Fanny + Florence. was born last in 1854. Almeda died 1859 & the family remained in Michigan a few years then returned to Ontario - Strouffordville, (Elgin County). Anthony shows on 1871 census - Bayham Twp as age 71 living with son Thomas. I can't find a death certificate for him. He was married by 1828 to Mary McKeown Conlley, a widow with 2 sons. They had children Mary Abigail, Eleanor, Eliza, Gamson, Laura. Mary died before 1840.

My great grandmother (Florena Burley) said her sister Sarah married a first cousin (William Burley) and I think Nelson was his father so that would make Anthony & Nelson brothers. He were told their father could have been Nathaniel Burley.

The reason I believe we come from the John Burley family is because the family always claimed that Cornelius Alverson Burleigh - ^{b. 1804} hung 1830 in London was an uncle and he, according to the paper at the time of the hanging, was a grandson of John & Dorcas Burley. It does not give his parents, which is odd, unless they were dead. I thought they might have been children of Cornelius, who drowned but the names you give me (John, George, Abner & Amos) don't mention them. On the 1850 Mich. census it says "Anthony Burley born N. J. or N. Y." It is hard to read. I had Taproots search N. J. and they couldn't come up with any Burleys at that time (1801-1810) I can't find any Burleys (Anthony or Nelson or Nathaniel) in the 1790 NY Census. I did see Cornelius living Northeast Township - Dutchess Co. & Joseph - Clinton Twp. Dutchess Co.

At a hanging June 5, 1832, in London, Anti —

" Conversations of the crowd were general. There was comment on the recent hanging of one Cornelius Burleigh and the violent manner of his kicks and contortions as he slowly strangled to death. Trap door drops were not in vogue. Burleigh's case was discussed to some length. Nothing squeamish about the hardy Irish and Scotch Immigrants, who comprised most of the first settlers of London's Middlesex County and "budded its wilderness". They couldn't afford to be.
